The programme's facilitators ensured I understood subject content fully, instilling the confidence to teach Accounting and Economic Management Science concepts effectively.

Thanks to the programme I can create my own teaching material.

I also learned how to handle challenging learner behaviour and remain calm in difficult situations.

Interacting with my Life Coach influenced my teaching philosophy by highlighting the importance of mentorship.

It prepared me for life beyond the classroom too with important skills such as interview preparation, and how to interact with people and take care of my well-being.

The facilitators were exceptional and made learning enjoyable.

Memorable experiences included starting an after-school Mathematics programme at Heathfield Primary School, where learners had fun while learning Math!
